

Leitz Microscopes
Loeb Health Research Institute
Ottawa, Ontario

A Leitz microscope installed on a Fabreeka vibration isolation table with patch clamping and micromanipulator setup. The Faraday cage will be installed around the table when the microscope set up is complete.

Electrophysiologists utilize the Faraday cage installed on the PAT series vibration isolation table to shield their work from RF waves and high frequency electrical noise.